Canoe Island French Camp:

Summer Fun with a French Accent

Find a little bit of France in the San Juan Islands at this NW Washington sleep-over summer camp, one of the country's premiere French camps.

Campers, ages 9-16, take part in a unique mix of French language and culture through artistic and outdoor activities. Canoe Island French Camp is not just a language experience; campers gain increased independence, self-awareness, new friends, and the ability to enjoy new experiences (and food). Beginning French speakers are welcome and comfortable with the mix of French and English. Half of the counselors come from France.

With only 50 campers in a session and 4-5 campers per tipi everyone gets acquainted quickly. Tipi-mates are arranged by age, French language class by ability, and the campers choose morning and afternoon activities themselves: kayaking, sailing, swimming, art, archery, theater, sports, rock climbing, snorkeling and cooking. Evenings are dedicated to camp-wide activities -- campfires on the beach, treasure hunts, theater in the Longhouse, mysteries and games.

The whole family can share the fun for four days over Memorial Day and Labor Day weekends -- a good way for youngsters to find out about camp.
