

We will kick off Santa Fe Fest with a 5K Color Fun Run through beautiful Jack Brooks Park!

Start Time: 8:00 a.m., near the entrance to the fairgrounds.
Check in begins at 7 a.m.

Walking & strollers are welcome. The run will feature Santa Fe colors!

Proceeds support SFISD's Education Foundation, providing innovative learning materials for SFISD kids.

About the Color: The powdered color is FDA-approved colored cornstarch. SFHS students will toss the color on runners during the race, making everyone colorful! If you prefer less color, just make your preference known and get past the students quickly! Wear light-colored clothes you wouldn't mind getting color on. The color comes out for the most part, but that's not a guarantee. We recommend bringing something to protect your car for the ride home. A towel or garbage bag to sit on will do the trick and will prevent your car from getting as colorful as you. The sooner you clean up, the easier the color comes off. Some people want to preserve the color on their shirts as a memento. We will provide instructions at the event, or you can search for the method online.
