What You Need To Know About The 2015 Student / Alumni Art & Design Sale

FACTS:

The MIAD Student/Alumni Art & Design Sale gives students and alumni an opportunity to exhibit and sell their work to the public. This event will be highly publicized and we expect a fantastic turnout of art enthusiasts, from those looking for a deal on great art to serious art investors.

Any student or alumni can participate – drawings, photographs, prints, paintings, furniture, design work, sculptures, jewelry, hand-made gifts and cards, etc. Higher quality and presentation equals better sales and a more successful event. Please submit current work, presented as professionally as possible. When appropriate, work should be mounted, matted or framed. Free shrink-wrapping materials will be available for you to use.

Sale volunteers and MIAD Security will do their best to ensure the safety of all work, but cannot be held liable for damage or theft. We encourage you to help us monitor your work during the sale and to pick up your work immediately at the end of the sale.

Additionally, it is highly recommended you actively participate each day of the sale to best represent your work and meet potential buyers. Consider creating while in your space to draw interest!

All participating artists and designers, plus 5 guests, will be admitted free to the Preview Night.

Questions? Ask Annie Hyma in RL75C or at anniehyma@miad.edu

A commission of 30% will be taken from the sale of each piece to fund the Sale. The artist/designer will receive 70% of the sale price. Please keep this in mind when you price your work. Sales tax will be charged at the check out.
