

Vibrant Health's Green Vibrance Has Won a 2016 VITY Award in Green Food Supplement Category

Vitamin Retailer magazine has recognized Green Vibrance as the winner of their VITY 2016 award in the Green Food Supplement Category.

Canaan, CT – June 1, 2016 Vibrant Health's Green Vibrance wins Vitamin Retailer 2016 VITY Award in the Green Food Supplement Category. Vibrant Health is proud to win one of the most sought after award in the natural product industry.

Every year Vitamin Retailer polls its retailer readers on their top-selling products and best sales and merchandising support to compile its VITY award for the year. The winners are based on most votes per category. Health food retailers vote based on what products their customers are buying – making the end consumer the real decision maker.

Green Vibrance is Vibrant Health's flagship product. It has won an impressive number of awards since its launch in 1992 and for good reason. Green Vibrance is a comprehensive green superfood which focuses on the four major areas of health: Nutrition, Circulation, Digestion, and Immunity. The label is jam-packed with ingredients that support these areas, such as 25 billion probiotics, digestive enzymes, oat grass, goji berries, astragalus, holy basil, flaxseed powder, and liverwort. That's just the tip of the iceberg as far as top-quality ingredients and because they utilize full disclosure labeling - everything you see on the label IS everything in the product. Green Vibrance has gone through many version upgrades over the years as Vibrant Health prides itself on keeping abreast of the most recent scientific studies and adjusting their products accordingly for maximum impact. Vibrant Health credits a quality product combined with a skilled team as the reason for their 2016 VITY win.
