

Custom Cabinetry Design/Estimating, Jr. Solutioneer

We are a cabinet manufacturer turning convention on its head, using advances in technology to provide a custom experience on a production scale. Our unique approach to an antiquated market is working. Our network of builders, architects, designers and homeowners is growing rapidly. We need someone who wants to advance their career with a trend-setting company and learn a better way to manufacture Storage Solutions. The Abodian value proposition is vast and you'll be partnered with a Sr. Solutioneer mentor while learning our methods; Oh, and while having a good time too.

You've already got a strong track record designing, drafting or building storage solutions. You are a wiz with computers. Follow through and attention to detail is second nature. You have a knack for solving problems and adding value in unique ways. If you fit that description and possess the traits listed below, we want to talk with you.

- 2 years of Cabinet industry experience (drafting/engineering/manufacturing)
- Cabinet vision experience preferred
- Self-motivated, minimal oversight required
- Impeccable prioritization and attention to detail
- Thrives under pressure and deadlines
- Full understanding of the Microsoft Office suite of tools

This is an opportunity to grow in an environment that supports, encourages and stimulates creativity and performance. Abodian is a forward-thinking, creative, innovative, hardworking and collaborative bunch of folks taking the old school by surprise.

We offer a competitive compensation along with a comprehensive benefits package. We're hiring now, so get us your cover letter and CV quickly to employment@abodian.com. You're likely already employed, so not to worry, confidentiality is ensured. Principals only, no recruiters please.
