As BUZZ LIGHTYEAR says, “To infinity and beyond!” Or at least to Chatom and Grove Hill.

The work that our bar's VOLUNTEER LAWYERS PROGRAM does is astounding and we have every right to be proud of it. Under the recent leadership of DAVID PEELER and now LISA COOPER, the lawyer participation rate has grown to almost 70% (three times the national average), and we routinely handle as many cases a year (close to a thousand) as the state bar program and many more than the Birmingham and Huntsville programs. But the MOBILE BAR ASSOCIATION VLP is getting ready to take another small leap that is very exciting.

Some quick background: Alabama has three countywide pro bono programs (Mobile, Birmingham and Huntsville) and then a state bar VLP which covers the other sixty-four counties -- including some of the state's poorest areas. The Birmingham and Huntsville programs are taking off under new bar leadership and staff, and the state bar VLP has outstanding staff and leadership. But as we have learned here in Mobile, a pro bono program needs a local presence in order to run at its highest level; you must recruit lawyers, meet with judges, do in-person intake, conduct clinics and do public outreach to let the public know about your services. (A recent survey found that only 20% of Alabamians even know about the availability of free legal help.)

In Mobile we have the same number of paid VLP staff (four) covering one county as the state bar has for 64 counties; as a result, the number of cases we handle in Mobile is about the same as in those 64 counties. The state's staff of four in a centralized location simply can't serve a state stretching from Gulf Shores to Muscle Shoals in a truly effective manner. The state's rural counties in particular are not getting the help they need.

The upshot is that the state bar VLP has asked the Mobile VLP to consider gradually expanding into adjacent counties and eventually becoming a regional program in southwest Alabama. If things work out, the other VLP's will do the same until there are five or so regional VLP's with offices possibly in Mobile, Montgomery, Tuscaloosa, Birmingham, and Huntsville.

The Mobile VLP board, with the consent of the MBA executive committee, has recently started taking some steps towards this expansion. Our VLP tentatively plans to take over pro bono case assignments in Clarke and Washington counties later this year. The initial

Have any of you noticed our brand new flag? A big Thank You to JOHN LEACH for his generous donation! I think he enjoys looking out his window and seeing it waving in the breeze just about as much as we do. Thanks again, John.

I hope you noticed elsewhere in this publication the notice about an honor being bestowed upon our own MR. HARRY SEALE by the ALABAMA STATE BAR. Well, I can't resist adding this article I read in the Press Register's "YESTERDAY'S NEWS" which are excerpts from past editions of the Press-Register compiled by CAMMIE EAST COWAN, dated Wednesday, March 8, 1961

"Judge Joseph M. Pelham, a visiting jurist who fined Mobile Atty. Harry Seale $25 for contempt of court Tuesday, later decided to drop the fine. "The judge had fined Seale $10 for appearing late to represent a client in a misdemeanor case, then boosted the fine to $25 when the attorney commented about the lower fine; "That's okay, I'm flush this morning." That's Mr. Harry!

At the April 15 Monthly Luncheon, as we do every year, we will be honoring the 25 year legal secretaries – with that in mind I came across an old "TODAY WITH ANN LANDERS" column (date unknown) that I would like to share and dedicate to "all secretaries":

SECRETARY'S PRAYER

Dear Ann: In our office we often have jokes going around, but today someone distributed a "prayer" for secretaries. We have no idea who wrote it but it's dedicated to all women who work in offices across Canada and the United States:

"Dear Lord, help me to do my work well; to have the memory of an elephant, and by some miracle to be able to do five things at once – answer four telephones while typing a letter that 'must go out today.' When the letter doesn't get signed until tomorrow, please give me the self-discipline to keep my mouth shut.

"Dear Lord, never let me lose patience, even when the boss has me searching the files for hours for data that is later discovered on his desk.

"Help me to have the intelligence of a college professor although my education is limited to high school, a few credit hours and secretarial training.

"Help me to understand and carry out all instructions without any explanation. "Let me always know exactly where my boss is, what he is doing, and when he will be back, even though he never tells me these things when he leaves.

"And Lord, when the year ends, please give me the foresight not to throw out records that will be asked for in a few days even though I was told emphatically, 'Destroy these. They are cluttering up the place.' Amen."

plan is that our folks will meet with the local lawyers and judges, get them on board, and then start handling intake of cases from those areas. The VLP will recruit local lawyers in those counties but if necessary will ask Mobile lawyers to help out. The VLP will probably set up clinics (such as it has done recently in Bayou La Batre) and establish intake sessions at a regular location -- perhaps the local courthouse or DHR office. The VLP will also conduct outreach to local social service providers and churches to let them know about the program, as is done in Mobile now.

All this is in the preliminary stages and there are a lot of issues to be ironed out. The VLP board in particular doesn't want to do anything that might undermine the strong support of the Mobile bar which has been the basis of its success over the last twenty years. But there are many low-income Alabamians in our surrounding counties who need legal help and are not getting it. Anyway, congratulations to the VLP board members for their willingness to take on new projects and to share the good thing we have going with our immediate neighbors.

SIGNIFICANT DECISIONS

In a case of first impression, the Supreme Court in Ex parte Textron, Inc., No. 1100032 (Ala., January 14, 2011), held that a lender did not waive its right to assert a Rhode Island forum selection clause against a borrower with respect to general matters under the loan agreement by instituting a detinue action against the Alabama collateral in an Alabama federal court because the Rhode Island court could not have jurisdictionally granted recovery against property located in Alabama.

Overruling to the extent inconsistent the prior cases of Russell v. Russell, 758 So.2d 533 (Ala.1999), and Scott v. Boykin, 900 So.2d 410 (Ala.2004), the Supreme Court in Oliver v. Shealey, No. 1091707 (Ala., January 14, 2011), held that Rule 3(c) of the ALABAMA RULES OF APPELLATE PROCEDURE imposed a mandatory, and not discretionary, requirement on a circuit court to correct a notice of appeal improperly directed to the circuit court to reflect the appeal to the proper appellate court. The Court also held, by strong implication, that the RULES OF APPELLATE PROCEDURE applied to appeals taken to circuit courts, even when the circuit court was not a jurisdictional appellate court in the case.

In Ex parte Tucker, No. 1090445 (Ala., January 7, 2011), the Supreme Court held that documents requested from a party's law firm concerning financial payment to the firm and trust account holdings on behalf of that client were not protected by the attorney-client privilege.

As a separate matter of interest, it should be noted that a lawyer received a public reprimand from the Alabama State Bar after being found in contempt by a probate court judge for failing to appear at a hearing that had been duly noticed. See ASB No. 10-462.

VLP

VOLUNTEER LAWYER PROGRAM

BY KATE BOLTON BONNICI

Family law is one of the areas of greatest need here in Mobile. Of the 894 cases opened last year, 350 involved family law issues. The FAMILY LAW COMMITTEE OF THE VLP BOARD is striving to strengthen our ability to serve Mobilians in this broad field. Our committee members are JENNIFER McDONALD, LUKE COLEY, RICK WILLIAMS, MARY PILCHER, and KATE BOLTON BONNICI. We are working to both expand our areas of coverage and to deepen our expertise in those areas we already cover. We will be posting helpful family law guidelines to our website (www.vlpmobile.org), which will help walk panel attorneys through core family law matters. These guidelines were created by family law practitioners on our committee and should prove to be a quick and useful reference for our volunteer lawyers. We are also in the process of fortifying our mentorship program by pairing new panel attorneys with experienced mentors. In an effort to expand our services to reach more people in need, we will be launching a program with the DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN RESOURCES, through which we assist with foster parent adoptions. We are also in the process of planning divorce clinics, which will enable us to serve broader numbers. As always, we depend on our dedicated members of the bar and staff to make this good work possible – thank you all!

This month, VLP would like to give special appreciation to panel attorney LATISHA D. RHODES. Latisha is an associate at ALFORD CLAUSEN & McDONALD. She graduated from the UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA SCHOOL OF LAW in 2009 and then began work at ALFORD CLAUSEN. Latisha immediately signed up as a VLP panel attorney, agreeing to see clients in office as well as to accept queried cases. Though she practices labor and employment law, she accepts a variety of subject matters for VLP. For example, when LEGAL SERVICES OF ALABAMA asked VLP to take on collections defense cases, Latisha served as one of the first VLP attorneys to handle a collections defense clinic. She also has handled contracts, divorce, and support modification cases. Since joining the panel in October 2009, she has accepted eight cases. She calls to ask about the different programs in which VLP is involved and is quick to offer her support. She makes herself available to VLP staff whenever they have questions or need guidance. We thank her for her active participation and support as well as for her commitment to the mission and continued success of VLP.

Sincerest thanks to the members of the Bar who opened or closed cases in February: G. WAYNE ASHBEE, PAUL T. BECKMANN, RUSSELL E. BERGSTROM, JAIME W. BETBEZE, KATE BONNICI, EDWARD G.
