

March Madness!! by Patti Burnside

Orphan X by Gregg Hurwitz. Evan Smoat was raised and trained as part of the off-the-books black box Orphan program. Someone with similar skills and training now wants to eliminate him.

Orchard Grove by Vincent Zandri. Orchard Grove is a town like any other, with quiet neighborhoods and apple groves. However, Ethan, the depressed screenplay writer, and his secretive wife Susan would tell you differently....so would the seductive serial killer living right next door.

Beside Myself by Ann Morgan. A page-turning and darkly brilliant psychological thriller about the fragility of what makes us who we are.

Crooked House by Christobel Kent. What's not to love about a chilling psychological thriller featuring a claustrophobic English seaside town, where the heroine is the sole survivor of a family massacre?

The Newsmakers by Lis Wiehl with Sebastian Stuart. TV reporter Erica Sparks has become a superstar overnight. Is it due to her hard work and talent, or is she at the center of a spiraling conspiracy?

Blue by Danielle Steel. Thirteen-year-old Blue Williams has been living on the streets, abandoned by his family, rarely attending school, and utterly alone. Following her instincts, Ginny Carter reaches out to him, hoping to heal the psychological wounds that both of them share.

The Swans of Fifth Avenue by Melanie Benjamin. The beautiful people of the fifties and sixties glitter in this riveting tale of betrayal and greed.

Nelly Dean: a Return to Wuthering Heights by Alison Case. A gripping and heartbreaking novel that re-imagines life at Wuthering Heights through the eyes of the Earnshaws' loyal servant, Nelly Dean.
