Class Guidelines

HTW (Hindu Temple, The Woodlands, Texas) School is here to introduce various classes for students. It is useful to practice what has been learnt.

1. Parent/s of students (under 18 years) attending the HTW are encouraged to be present in the premises.
2. Children should be punctual to classes. The classes begin at prescribed schedule as provided by specific instructor(s) and is subject to change.
3. Please make sure that the children come to class equipped with paper, pens / pencils and folders.
4. Children should be old enough to sit through the full session of class.
5. If you know in advance about your child not being able to attend School on any class, please tell the teacher and ask about the class missed. It is the duty of the child and parent to inquire what lesson was taught in the class and catch up.
6. Please insist that your children take home all their belongings. HTW School is not responsible for lost items.
7. Please make use of e-mail or talk to teachers or committee to let us know your ideas and suggestions.
8. This is YOUR school. Please talk to your child about discipline, keeping it quiet, clean and beautiful. Be a role model for your child and teach them by example.
9. Course specific information and requirements will be provided by the respective teacher

The teachers and staff of HTW EYS classes are comprised of volunteers and we work hard to make a difference in the lives of our children. They are our future and we want them to grow up with our values. So all parents are requested to come forward and help us achieve this goal by following these guidelines. Thank you!

Introduction to Computing

SUMMER 2015

INTRODUCTION TO COMPUTING – SYLLABUS

“THESE MACHINES HAVE NO COMMON SENSE; THEY HAVE NOT YET LEARNED TO “THINK,” AND THEY DO EXACTLY AS THEY ARE TOLD, NO MORE AND NO LESS. THIS FACT IS THE HARDEST CONCEPT TO GRASP WHEN ONE FIRST TRIES TO USE A COMPUTER.”

-DONALD KNUTH

Instructor

Karpoor Shashidhar, karpoor@gmail.com

Class Schedule:

Sundays, 4-6 PM June 5, 12, 19, 26
July 3, 10, 17, 24, 31
Aug. 7

Welcome to Introduction to Computing. This class is designed to give you a foundation into the world of computing early in your academic career. By the end of this course, you will have enough skills and confidence to enable you to become self-learners and become proficient in computing and programming languages in general. Please treat this syllabus as an invitation to your learning. As I get to know you all better, I will make small changes to the syllabus to better suit our class needs. You will be notified in a timely manner about any such changes. Please don't hesitate to suggest any changes to this document to assist in your learning process. I welcome any ideas or comments.

Laboratory and Homework Assignments

The laboratory and homework assignments, quizzes are a critical part of this course. They provide an opportunity to work with the material covered during the lecture, and to practice designing, and testing programs and concepts.

The homework assignments are due on the due date specified. Homework Assignments are graded on both the quality of the solution as well as the quality of the actual computer program. All written documentation and answers to questions pertaining to an assignment must be produced using Microsoft Word

Rules for homework assignments

All homework assignments are to be solved individually. Students may discuss the basic design of the solution to any assignment with other students/parents, but the solution must be entirely yours.
