Educator Workshop

January 23rd, Sundance, WY

What: A fun, hands-on workshop for educators, parents, and caregivers, featuring the award-winning early childhood curricula of Project WILD and Project Learning Tree.

Growing Up WILD is an early childhood education program that builds on children's sense of wonder about nature and invites them to explore wildlife and the world around them. Through a wide range of activities and experiences, Growing Up WILD provides an early foundation for developing positive impressions about the natural world and lifelong social and academic skills.

Our early childhood programs provide an introduction to environmental education, encouraging children to explore, discover and communicate in expressive ways. With over 130 experiences that engage children in outdoor play and exploration, it's no wonder Learning® Magazine chose our Environmental Experiences for Early Childhood as their Teachers' Choice Award winner!
