

Chief of Hematology/Oncology

Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center

Lubbock, Texas

The Texas Tech Health Sciences Center, Lubbock Texas, seeks an outstanding leader, clinician, and researcher as its new Chief of Hematology/Oncology. Reporting to the Chairman/Department of Medicine, the new Chief will hold an Endowed Chair, and will also hold the position of Medical Director in the Southwest Cancer Center. This Chief will build on a well funded and nationally recognized program with dedicated clinical and research facilities that include a newly expanded outpatient center and chemotherapy infusion suite. He or she will develop and implement a vision for cancer care, research and teaching that grows the Division's clinical base, science, and particularly its translation of research discoveries into improved and differentiated clinical care.

We seek an experienced academic physician who is board certified in hematology/oncology with the current rank of Professor or Associate Professor. He or she should have prior administrative and leadership experience, a record of accomplishment in clinical care, research, teaching and management, and strong interpersonal and communication skills that complement a passion for excellence and achievement.

Inquires, nominations and applications are invited. Applications may be submitted in confidence to ttuhschemonc@wittkieber.com. Inquiries may be addressed to Claudia Teschky, the Witt/Kieffer consultant supporting this search, at 630-575-6172.
