PlayMakers Repertory Company presents "Disgraced" (Sept. 16-Oct. 4)

In "Disgraced" by Ayad Akhtar, an upwardly mobile Pakistani-American lawyer has achieved success while distancing himself from his Muslim heritage. When he and his wife host a dinner party, friendly conversation turns to politics and religion, escalating into something far more dangerous in this breathtaking comedy-drama. The show runs September 16-October 4, 2015 at the Paul Green Theatre. Tickets start at just $15. For more information or to purchase tickets, call (919) 962-7529 or visit playmakersrep.org.

Carrboro Farmers' Market "The People's Peppers" (Oct. 3)

Come celebrate pepper season at the Carrboro Farmers' Market! Between the roasted peppers, the raw peppers, the fried peppers, the pepper jelly and the two delicious pepper recipe contest finalists it will be a sampling bonanza! Sheri Castle will be preparing our two finalist recipes: Corn and Pepper Salad by Paul Piersma and Cold Roasted Red Pepper "Borscht" by Susan Spalt - come try them both and vote for your favorite! We will tally the votes and crown our People's Peppers Champion at 11:45am. In the meantime, chow down on samples, enjoy live toe-tapping Latin music by Con Acento, and pick up a limited-edition 2015 People's Peppers Cookbook! Proceeds from cookbook sales will support our Gary Murray Memorial Scholarship Fund for new and beginning farmers. PlayMakers continues its Mainstage Season with the scathingly funny comedy "Seminar" by Theresa Rebeck, Oct.16- Nov. 1 at the Paul Green Theater in the Center for Dramatic Art on Country Club Road. "Seminar" is a story of blood, sweat and tears in the writer's den. Four aspiring young writers ante up big bucks to learn from a legendary novelist, but their fiction and their egos will be unsparingly dissected before he's through. Ferociously fun and fast-paced with sparkling wordplay, "Seminar" takes no prisoners. Previews are Oct. 14 and 15.
