For immediate release:

Newly elected officers of the Architecture and Design Network are Chris East, president; Jason Campbell, secretary and Lindsay Ross Thomas, treasurer. East is an architect with Cromwell Architects and Engineers. Campbell, an attorney, is a partner at Anderson, Murphy and Hopkins, LLP. Thomas is an accountant with L. Cotton Thomas & Company.

June Freeman will continue as director of the Network, sponsor of a series of free public lectures that deal with architecture and design. This past November Freeman was the recipient of the Arkansas Chapter of the American Institute of Architecture's 2013 Merit Award in recognition of her contributions to the field.

The next lecture in the Network's 13/14 series, scheduled for January 28th at the Arkansas Arts Center, will be given by Martha Thorne, Director of the Pritzker Architecture Prize. The award, given annually to an accomplished architect, is considered the "Nobel of architecture". The title of her talk is "Starchitects, Prizes and the Changing Face of Architecture". Her lecture begins at 6:30 p.m. and is preceded by a reception at 5:30 p.m.

Sponsors of the Architecture and Design Network, a non-profit organization, include the Arkansas Arts Center, the Central Arkansas Chapter of the American Institute of Architects and the University of Arkansas's Fay Jones School of Architecture
