Future-Engage-Deliver Caseter

Wed 6th May 2015

You are invited to join us for a one day 'caseter'.

Jez Light, Learning & Development Manager at Superdry will share his live 'Future Engage Deliver' case study, combined with an opportunity to experience some of the elements of this approach to leadership development.

Superdry.

Our client will share their challenges, approach taken, results achieved and lessons learned.

Continuous organisational change calls for a new breed of leader— those connected to and guided by a Future they want to create, with the ability to deeply Engage others in that future and the passion and determination to see it through to Delivery.

Our innovative, yet compellingly simple approach helps leaders explore their leadership, their challenges and their aspirations. Active and practical, we talk about 'leadership in the real-world', connecting participants to what they really care about and the leader they want to be. The results can include huge shifts in personal confidence, the size and effectiveness of working relationships, and the performance of the whole organisation.

Simple yet Powerful

- Introducing 'Future-Engage-Deliver' - the radical and powerful approach to developing your Leadership
- The Superdry® experience—learn how one large organisation has used FED to grow their leadership capability
- Conscious leadership - becoming aware of your 'Leader Mode' and avoiding being a 'Busy Manager'
- Being guided by the future - getting in touch with the larger context and avoiding the pull of the present
- Building 'bigger' relationships - ensuring that your relationships are 'big' enough to help you achieve the results you care about
- Being your best self - exploring the impact you have on others and managing the 'shadow you cast'
- Delivering more now - developing focussed conversations of delivery and building your capacity to make the 'big request'
- Delivering more later - creating leadership in others and expanding your influence
- Expanding your personal support team
