Did you know…you can nominate an employer or apprentice that is championing the apprenticeship system to be highlighted on the Industry Training Authority's Champions of Apprenticeship page?

Apprenticeship has been around since the beginning of time and for a good reason! Apprenticeships not only benefit the employer and apprentice but also the industry as a whole. Employers who sponsor apprentices are doing their part in strengthening their trade community and dedicated apprentices are keeping up the high standards that are expected in their industry. The Industry Training Authority (ITA) has identified these committed individuals as Champions of Apprenticeship.

On ITA's Champions of Apprenticeship web area, there is a collection of success stories of employers and apprentices that are making the most of their apprenticeship/mentorship journey that is sure to inspire. Visit www.championsofapprenticeship.ca for video interviews and write ups of employers that truly understand the value of being a mentor and sponsor, as well as hard-working apprentices that are making the most of their apprenticeships and well on their way to becoming a certified journeyperson.

Are there any shining stars in your community that you think deserves to be recognized for their efforts in the apprenticeship system? Nominate them at www.championsofapprenticeship.ca.
