Susan O'Brien will teach parents how to develop and strengthen their children's social skills which are essential for developing confidence, a positive self-esteem and the ability to get along with their peers. These basic skills will serve your child well throughout their life!

Susan Reichman O'Brien graduated from Columbia University School of Social Work in 1984 and is a licensed clinical social worker with more than twenty five years of experience. She has worked with children, adolescents, and adults in private and public counseling agencies. Susan has also been a school consultant and is currently a group facilitator for discussion groups on issues regarding child development and parenting.
