You're Invited!

This is a limited invitation to attend the Urban Thinkers Campus in Omaha, Nebraska on November 16 & 17. Please join us for this opportunity to connect local knowledge with international policy making. The UTC will be an open space for critical exchange between urban actors who believe that urbanization can lead to positive urban transformations.

This campus is one among 28 being convened world-wide, one of three in North America, and the only UTC to address the interests of small- and mid-sized cities. The work we do will be included for consideration by UN-Habitat as they plan for Habitat III in 2016.

Innovations in sustainable development are the result of partnerships among governments and civil society organizations, local authorities, the private sector, the research community, trade unions, legislators, professional organizations, indigenous people, youth and women groups. Early registration is being extended to you and select representatives of these groups beginning Monday, September 21 through October 5. Admission is free.

You'll meet some of the most dynamic and creative thinkers in urban planning, development and sustainability at the Urban Thinkers Campus on November 16 & 17. Use the registration code UTC2015 to take advantage of this early registration invitation, and secure your seat at the table. Click here to register today!
