The University of Minnesota’s Research and Training Center on Community Living and The National Alliance for Direct Support Professionals Announce the

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS
Moving Mountains Awards:
Best Practice in Direct Support Workforce Development

DEADLINE FOR SUBMISSION: NOVEMBER 20TH, 2015

BACKGROUND AND PURPOSE OF THE MOVING MOUNTAINS AWARD:
The National Alliance for Direct Support Professionals (NADSP) and the Research and Training Center (RTC) at the University of Minnesota’s Institute on Community Integration are seeking nominations for the 2016 Moving Mountains Award. The purpose of this award is to recognize organizations using leading practices in direct support staff workforce development that result in improved outcomes for the people being supported. Organizations applying are required to illustrate how their direct support workforce practices and philosophy align with the principles of the National Alliance for Direct Support Professionals (NADSP). These principles are:

- All direct support professionals benefit from access to well-constructed educational experiences (e.g., in-service training, continuing and higher education) and lifelong learning;
- Certifying highly qualified workers incentivizes continuing education, increased compensation, and access to career pathways for direct support professionals thereby improving retention;
- Values and ethical decision making can be learned and infused into daily practice; and
- Strengthening relationships and partnerships between direct support professionals, self-advocates, and other consumer groups and families improves the quality of support.

Nominated programs/initiatives can be small (a single program) or large (statewide) in scope and can involve just a few or many DSPs. Organizations that have applied previously but were not selected are invited and encouraged to re-submit a nomination for this year’s competition. The RTC and the NADSP are looking for unique and creative initiatives that contribute to improving workforce outcomes for direct support professionals and their employers. We welcome applications from statewide/regional initiatives, local organizations, and individuals. Up to two awards will be given each year. This year’s award winners will be honored at the 2016 Reinventing Quality Conference.
APPLICATION PROCESS:

1. Applications due November 20\textsuperscript{th}, 2015 by electronic submission to zeman048@umn.edu.
