This program will explore the ways in which Nimitta or Omens can help to create the kind of lifestyle that listens to the information coming from the environment. Nimitta-informed actions maximize learning and results in continuous improvement.

Today, people need life tools that take them beyond the formal methods of analysis and reasoning. Traditional information gathering no longer meets the needs of people acting in the complex and accelerated environment of the 21st-century. People must be learning constantly and be in tune with their surroundings in order to acquire the knowledge and skills needed to be successful. Using Nimitta can be an effective means for more complete and correct decision making. With the aid of Nimitta you should to be able to create a dialog with nature in which awareness is enhanced and made an integral part of daily decision making.

As you learn the topics of this program on Nimitta, you will be able to:

- Explain the importance of nimitta or omens as a feedback mechanism for guiding everyday life
- Determine what guidance nature is offering you to help overcome obstacles and amplify opportunities
- Determine what information around you provides the greatest leverage for effective action
- Find a common set of tools from nature to anticipate the correct action to take for different life events
- Develop a natural interactive lifestyle for creating and sustaining a more successful life.
