About NAFUSA

The National Association of Former United States Attorneys was founded in March 1979. It was established to promote, defend and further the integrity and the preservation of the litigating authority and independence of the office of the United States Attorney as one of the principal instrumentalities through which the President of the United States carries out his constitutional obligation that the laws be faithfully executed. The association also provides a forum for education and continuing professional relationships which have been formed with the Department of Justice and for the exchange of information and professional referrals in the private practice.

An annual conference is held each year which features continuing legal education programs of interest in the areas of federal practice, Department of Justice policies and significant cases. Recent conferences have featured Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist, United States Attorney General Eric Holder, former United States Attorney General Janet Reno, Mayor Rudolf Giuliani, and former FBI Director Robert Mueller.

Membership is open to persons who have served as a United States Attorney pursuant to a presidential commission. Membership is open to former Department of Justice officials who have served pursuant to a Presidential commission and persons who have served as a United States Attorney by court appointment or as an acting United States Attorney by designation from the Attorney General of the United States.

Conference Profile

Our 2015 Annual Conference will be held in Scottsdale, Arizona. Our conference hotel is The Phoenician, one of Arizona's premier luxury resorts. This AAA Five Star Resort will serve as our headquarters hotel and conference location. The central location will ensure attendees can maximize their time for education, exceptional golf and spa experiences, and engagement with colleagues.

On Friday and Saturday mornings of the conference, we will hold CLE programs with nationally known speakers on such topics as national security, internal investigations, corporate monitors, immigration, prosecutive ethics, and the False Claims Act. See, for example, the 2014 program schedule from our Boston conference (attached).

NAFUSA member attendees at the 2015 Annual Conference represent in-house counsel for major private and public companies and leading partners from major law firms from every state. See the member directory on the NAFUSA website at www.nafusa.org. The website and the NAFUSA monthly newsletters will update the conference planning as the date gets closer.

Networking Environment for Sponsors
