

The Evolution of An Evening of Female Comics

On July 19, An Evening of Female Comics will return for its fifth year of fun and laughter! Long time WWf(a)C poet, playwright and stand-up comic, Teri Foltz, is the producer and mastermind behind this event which benefits Women Writing for (a) Change.

Last year was a turning point. For the first three years, professional comedienne who were regulars on the stand-up comedy circuit graciously agreed to perform for our event. In 2015, Teri realized that there might be a way to turn WWf(a)C's very own humor writers into stand-up comics for the show.

Gathering a group of willing and funny women from WW(a)C, Teri helped them turn their humorous pieces into stand-up routines—and what an amazing result! They brought the house down—and the audience wanted more!

And so it shall be. An Evening of Female Comics again presents a group of talented WWf(a)C humor writers who will give your funny bone a workout. See you July 19 at Go Bananas Comedy Club in Montgomery which generously provides the venue for our benefit.

Join us—it's too funny to miss!
