CEO Third Floor Conference Room

2331 Fifth Avenue—Troy, NY 12180

Young workers are at high risk of suffering a workplace injury. In fact, teen workers are injured at twice the rate of adult workers, both due to inexperience and to the types of work that they are asked to do.

This training will equip young workers to identify potential hazards and to know what prevention measures can be taken. Additionally, young workers have the same legal rights to a safe and healthy workplace as do adults, and class attendees will be told how to exercise those rights.
