

Hello Fabulous Volunteers!!

I hope you are all excited to jump into the cookie booth season and be a part of an amazing learning process that the girls are about to embark on!

Your girls will be busy running their business, talking to people and making business transactions and we don't want to disturb that process. We also know that cookie season is the time when Girl Scouts are most visible to the public and it inspires new girls who want to join in the fun as well.

We have created a poster that can be placed as part of your booth decorations and will help these new members get troop information electronically and keep it as simple as possible for the troops that are busy putting smiles on people's faces and cookies into their hands.

If you need more posters please contact your SUPSC to see if they have any left and then contact your membership specialist who can either email you the file so you can print more off or we can print off more and send them to you.

Thank you for helping new girls feel empowered to get their Girl Scout experience started in a fun and timely manner.
