

NEWS RELEASE

August 26, 2015
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact Information:

Paulette Bently
Marketing Communications
P: 313-202-7921

E: paulette.bently@akahn.com

DETROIT, MI—

The Journal of the National Institute of Building Sciences, August 2015 publication highlighted The Building Enclosure Council - Greater Detroit.

The article outlined the Council's community involvement and the new scholarship fund for college students studying architecture, engineering or construction.

Executive team member; Donald Bauman, AIA, Assistant Technical Director of Architecture and Design for Albert Kahn, Detroit was listed. The BEC-Greater Detroit, established in 2008, provides a forum for all construction professionals to share ideas to achieve improved, higher-performing building enclosures, specific to the Midwest climate. Albert Kahn's Panjak Patel, AIA is also a member of the Council's board.

Kahn's award winning team of design professionals continue to build their legacy of notable projects. Known for their excellent client communications and responsiveness, Albert Kahn serves clients in a variety of market sectors, including health care, corporate, educational, automotive/industrial, research and technology, and government. Albert Kahn was founded in 1895 by world-renowned architect, Albert Kahn.

###