Provider Support and Distress: Ethical Dilemmas

Presented by: Russell E. Hilliard, PhD, LCSW, LCAT, MT-BC, CHRC
VP Supportive Care, Research, and Ethics; VP of Quality Assurance and Performance Improvement, Seasons Hospice and Palliative Care

In the acute care setting, there is documented evidence of moral distress among critical care providers related to treating patients beyond futility. The gaps in knowledge exist in awareness of this distress, its causes, how to prevent it, and how to manage it - specifically pertaining to complex ethical dilemmas. In this informative presentation, renowned National Hospice speaker Russell Hilliard will enable the attendee to identify and learn to manage ethical dilemmas in the critical care setting that lead to moral distress and turnover of staff. Through case studies and examples, the attendees will learn valuable tools they can utilize with their patients/clients when dealing with ethical dilemmas.
