Are you prepared for the industry's new requirements and guidelines regarding lubricants? During this session we will be discussing API (American Petroleum Institute), PQIA (Petroleum Quality Institute of America), MOM (Motor Oil Matters) and state weights/measures lubricant guidelines. Attendees will learn what products are API registered, what influences PQIA has on consumer products and the MOM organization's purpose and impact on our industry.

Learn about the new 2015 guidelines and requirements on invoicing and labeling. State Weight & Measures have issued new guidelines for tank labeling, product testing for viscosity and consumer invoicing of product and viscosity, along with OSHA's new requirements for vehicle lifts that have been or will be put into effect soon.

Make sure you are prepared for the new requirements and guidelines that impact your business, Don't miss this informative event!
