Bill will call on his 35 years of professional experience to support Diamond V's North America turkey customers, says David Kenyon, Business Manager for Turkeys and Layers.

"Bill's impressive tenure in the turkey industry includes strong relationships with integrators and independent growers throughout North America and several countries around the world," David says. "He has an extraordinary depth of knowledge and expertise in multiple aspects of the business, including genetics, multipliers, and integrators.

For the past 15 years, Bill was the U.S. Key Account Sales Manager for Hendrix Genetics. Previously, he was a Sales Manager for Goldsboro Milling Company and Vice-President and National Sales Manager for Cuddy Farms International.

Bill is a past President of the North Carolina Turkey Federation and currently serves on the National Turkey Federation Board of Directors.

Come up to speed: Research at IPSF, expertise at IPPE

The International Poultry Scientific Forum, January 26-27 at the Georgia World Congress Center, includes nine presentations about research involving Diamond V products.

IPSF 2015 features research on Diamond V's new AviCare™, liquid product for poultry drinking water to help birds maintain health and performance during production challenges. Researchers also are presenting the latest findings on Original XPC™ and the poultry immune system and pre-harvest food safety.

Contact a Poultry Team Member for details of Diamond V's presentations at IPSF 2015. For more on IPSF, visit <http://www.southernpoultrysciencesociety.org/>.

Following IPSF, we're welcoming everyone to the Diamond V booth at the International Production and Processing Expo, also at the Georgia World Congress Center (Booth A431). For more on IPPE 2015, visit <http://ippexpo.org/>.

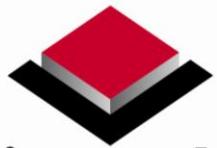

As always, Diamond V's Poultry Team welcomes your questions. You can contact Team members through DiamondV.com.

Or, you can share your question about poultry health, production, and pre-harvest food safety – and see the answer in PoultryAdvisor. Please let me know.

Wishing you a safe, happy, and prosperous 2015!
