News & Notes

Many amazing titles came in during the holiday season this year; some of the very best are above and on the facing page, as well as on the backcover. We've redone the order blank to make it easier to use, added a sign up for our weekly email and our bi-weekly printed newsletter.

We've expanded the size of the catalog again this time to allow us to include the top Bestsellers of 2014. I hope this affords you an opportunity to learn what fellow customers liked most among everything that we handle, and discover some wonderful items you might have overlooked. If you'd like to see a little more commentary on the 2014 Bestsellers, go to Bud's Blog on our home page and see weeks December 26 and January 9. This is where we keep all past weekly emails for your reference.

We receive between 15 and 25 new items each week. That adds up to an amazing 1000 new items a year. It's obviously a lot for any customer to keep up with. That's why I enjoy the Bestsellers, because it boils an entire year down into about the top (and hopefully BEST) 10%. I usually find many of my personal favorites there.

Next catalog we plan to begin a new program. We'll be relisting—in a special section—items that first appeared in a catalog six months prior, as a chance for customers to catch up on any missed items. All these are always on our website, either until they sell out from the publisher, or I discontinue them to make room for other items. While our website attracts a lot of customers, we know many depend more on catalogs and newsletters. Thus we can give the most deserving items a "second time around." In this catalog, my "Bud's Picks" serves same purpose on a smaller scale, to point out recent "best-of" items.

Our weekly email no longer includes pictures or descriptions of Mature or Adult items. You now click to go into Bud's Blog for descriptions and scans. I only mention titles in brief in the email. We made this change some time back in order to no longer offend or embarrass customers who are simply not interested, or who are concerned about judgement from others looking on. If you opted out of the weekly email for that reason, or perhaps never opted in, now is a good time to sign up so you don't miss out on other benefits, like special sales, short quantity items, and my personal Reviews and News & Notes. ~ Bud

TOM KELLEY'S STUDIO On Sale! Save $15! Visionary

1940s-1970s. Highly Recommended. By Peter Doggett.

Edited by Tom Kelley Jr and Tony Nourmand. In 1948, celebrity photographer Tom Kelley took a photograph of an out-of-work actress; it's here on the cover. That actress was Marilyn Monroe. In 1953, this became Playboy's first-ever centerfold. This is but one image from a vast, previously unseen archive of Kelley's visionary nude photography, wonderful period pieces, often staged with fun backdrops, with each model identified. Many of these seem to have been done for calendars or upscale appearances; these are NOT typical in any way, but fresh and different. We like this very much. Reel Art, 2014.

The Life and Comics of Basil Wolverton Volume 1

On Sale! Save $5! 1909-1941. Our Highest Recommendation. By Greg Sadowski. He's best known for his goofy grotesqueries in the pages of MAD and other humor comics, but he was also responsible for some of the wildest and most eye-popping science fiction and horror comics of the Golden Age. This finally collects all that early (most serious, some funny) comics work, much of it complete stories: Space Patrol, Meteor Martin, Disc-Eyes the Detective, to several long-lost rejected comic strips and lots more. Fantagraphics, 2014.
