

Black History Month Concert 2015

photo by Dean Kalyan

My Father, to Whom I am not Related

A New Show
by Justin Carter

Chance Lovett Quartet

An Evening of Storytelling, Gospel, Jazz, Blues

Monday, February 23rd, 7:00 pm

(Doors open at 6:00 pm)

MY FATHER, TO WHOM I AM NOT RELATED Adopted at eight years old, Justin Carter relives his early years with his new family with humour and delight. His new Hungarian Mom. His mischievous new siblings. The dogs. The cats. The goats. The travels. From Disneyland to living in Nigeria. All the while watching his new father cope with all that craziness. A man equally devoted to reading, napping, coffee and the CBC. What did Justin learn from his father? How to milk a goat, how to chew soup, but more importantly, how to make mayonnaise toast.

Chance Lovett Quartet — Back by popular demand, Victoria's own Chance Lovett, vocalist, will be joined by Nicholas Mintenko (Bass), Sean Thompson (Drums) and Dakota Hoepfner (Keyboard) as the Chance Lovett Quartet. They look forward to celebrating black history with you through a soulful set of gospel, jazz and blues.

Belfry Theatre

1291 Gladstone Ave.
Phone: 250-385-6815
for information.

Admission by Donation.

Co-sponsored by the BC Black History Awareness Society, Greater Victoria Public Library and Belfry Arts Centre