

The movie, American Sniper, vividly illustrates that there is a Need for Military Caring Houses of Worship in every community across the nation.

The movie addresses some of the events and resulting emotions of those who have served in the military as well as the affect on their family. The results of that service can lead to:

- Suicide
- Moral injury
- Depression
- Alcoholism
- Marital strife
- Survivor's guilt
- and more...

Unless a house of worship has an understanding of these and other issues they will never be able to serve those who have served us.

Starting in January and throughout the balance of 2015, Military Outreach USA will be offering a series of one hour webinars to discuss these and other topics concerning military service. Each session will provide resources to help you serve our Military Community which consists of veterans, active duty, National Guard, Reserves, and their families.

We also know that the issues concerning our Military Community affect those with no military background and so these webinars will be of particular value for outreach and service ministries that deal with these topics.

The Need for Military Caring Houses of Worship

Without knowledgeable clergy and lay ministers we will never be able to meet the needs of our Military Community. These webinars will help prepare you to meet their needs.
