

Neighborhood Focus: Madison South

What makes a neighborhood strong are the people. Madison leaders are a true example of how to stop big box development. Years later what was an underutilized landfill is now a community asset and environmental refuge. Neighbors welcomed with shovel in hand the new Dharma Rain Zen Center. And finally Madison South is home to a rich diverse culture. Jason Lee K-8 School boasts 25% Asian, 18% African American, and 17 % Latino students where 70% of children live in the neighborhood. Families will be invited to get to know their neighborhood with walks and a picnic at the feel good fair this summer!
