Living Water:

The Story of St. Gabriel the Archangel Church

On August 29, 2005, Hurricane Katrina flooded 80% of the city of New Orleans, devastating St. Gabriel's entire parish plant and the homes of most of the parishioners. This new theatrical piece tells the real-life resurrection story of this New Orleans parish that banded together to rebuild their church and their neighborhood.

Based on interviews with pastoral leaders and parishioners, this 90-minute play integrates music and drama to convey this powerful story.
