

"Every Life is a Gift." This is the theme for the upcoming March for Life in Washington DC on January 22, 2015

Dear Gail,

"Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights..."
(James 1:17 KJV)

When my husband had trouble falling asleep he would count his blessings. As we look back on 2014 we have so many blessings to count. One is the blessing of birth. Our mission is to provide life-affirming alternatives to abortion. We do this in many ways. It begins with asking our Lord to fill our hearts with love for the people that come our way. This is why our clients express over and over that they are not judged when they come here for services. We have the resources to empower them to make an educated decision. We want to be there for them. We have been blessed to be able to partner with our area churches as Pastors and Priests joined us in prayer. We have been blessed by the many individuals who picked up a baby bottle in their church and filled it with change. We have been blessed by the churches who took the time to organize baby showers that filled our boutique with clothes and baby supplies. We have been blessed with thousands of diapers from a church that does a diaper drive each year. We were blessed at our annual banquet when hundreds came out for our celebration of life. We are blessed as churches pray for clients considering abortion. And the list goes on and on. This Sunday is Sanctity of Human Life Sunday and we already have a church initiating a bottle drive. Continue to pray for the unborn and for our nation that life from beginning to end will be honored.

Respectfully,

Gail Gardner, Executive Director
