

- March 7: FOAL and the library are presenting a Women's History Month event, featuring noted architectural historian Victoria Kastner, who will highlight the life and work of architect Julia Morgan, including Ms. Morgan's design of Hearst Castle and other major projects.
- Have ideas for an event in the library? As FOAL plans for future events, we' love to hear from you. Contact me or Special Events Committee Chair Leigh Livick via the "Contact Us" page at www.friendsoftheatascaderolibrary.org.
- Alice's Bookstore Manager Alice Rew reports that book sales are far exceeding expectations, and we're way ahead of our budgeted income projection for the year so far. Congratulations to Alice and her terrific team of volunteers! (You could be one of those terrific volunteers. Contact Alice or Linda Zirk via the "Contact Us" page, or leave a note at the Bookstore.)
- Want to help your Friends? FOAL always welcomes members who would like to get more involved. The Bookstore, the Special Events Committee, Dancing With Our Stars, membership and library card recruiting, publicity, Colony Days parade float, data base management, board offices (elections are coming up soon; interested members are invited to run for FOAL office), . . . FOAL can always use a few good Friends!

Thanks for your membership and your support,

Bob
