What we offer...

In its fifth year, our camp focuses on the mission of the farm – to keep farming; feed people; and build community. Campers will actively explore the farm’s acres of woods, fields, apiary and wetlands.

While at the farm, campers are encouraged to embrace the natural world. We strive to reconnect them with where their food comes from through interviews with our farmer and management of a large garden. Campers also cover related topics like beekeeping, birds and small wildlife, butterflies, chickens, soil health, biodiversity, and the daily operations of a working organic farm.

A typical day is focused on a theme, with time for learning and exploration, a healthy snack, games, stories and a craft. Our experienced teaching staff is certified in first aid and CPR, with a staff-to-camper ratio of 1:8

Massaro Community Farm is a non-profit, certified organic farm on a 57 acre parcel of land in Woodbridge, Connecticut, 20 minutes from New Haven. Our mission is to keep farming, feed people, and build community. Our vision is to enhance the quality of life for generations to come.
